About CEBRI

The Brazilian Center for International Relations (CEBRI) is an independent think tank that contributes to building Brazil’s international agenda. For over twenty years, the institution has dedicated itself to promoting pluralistic and purposeful dialogues on the international perspective and Brazilian foreign policy.

Practice

STRUCTURED WORK
Eleven Interdisciplinary Programs that foster strategic debate on international relations and address the main issues regarding Brazil’s national development and insertion in the global scenario.

INDEPENDENT THINKING
A non-profit, independent, and nonpartisan civil society institution. CEBRI works with a wide range of specialists, with multiple views on the topics of its agenda.

PLURAL DIALOGUE
CEBRI’s trustees, senior fellows, members, and partners form a network of highly qualified individuals from different fields of expertise.

DISSEMINATION OF QUALIFIED CONTENT
Wide reach and engagement of civil society, in-person and online. Consistently listed as one of the leading think tanks in Latin America, according to the world’s top think tank ranking.

INFLUENCE ON PUBLIC POLICY FORMULATION
High capacity to engage the main representatives in the public and private sectors, and civil society, in all initiatives undertaken.
“In 2020 we had to rapidly restructure our work plan to continue our collaboration with businesses, governments, and civil society in a purposeful reflection on the challenges that Brazil and the world face. We launched the digital platform, CEBRI Online, and organized over 50 discussion panels with national and international specialists. In only four months, more than 75,000 people participated in our initiatives, which shows the growing relevance of think tanks as places to promote pluralistic and assertive dialogue.”

“This year, we reviewed CEBRI’s Programs to strengthen our focus on international affairs. We invited new fellows and trustees to lead the agendas on the US, Europe, and South America, and created a specific program dedicated to the study of Multilateralism. We carried out initiatives in partnership with leading institutions such as the Atlantic Council, Council of the Americas, Konrad Adenauer Foundation, and the Inter-American Development Bank. CEBRI aims to remain at the center stage of the international affairs debate.”
